Executive Leadership for Ministers Certificate

A Continuing Education program sponsored by Fayetteville State University

For ministers who want to be better stewards of God’s resources

Fayetteville State University is proud to offer a first-of-its kind program designed to improve ministers’ organizational leadership and management capabilities.

Instructor Darsweil L. Rogers, Executive Coach and Management Trainer, will lead highly interactive lectures to equip clergy with the skills necessary to support a ministry’s need for sustainability. Based upon principles of effective management, the ELMC will include sessions on self-assessment, understanding and valuing differences, decision making, effective communication, managing people, and building a sustainable organization.

Mr. Rogers’ business skills and management philosophies uniquely qualify him to build an organization from the ground up or at any stage by starting with a strong foundational philosophy that the success or failure of any organization is the responsibility of the people running the organization—the Management. In other words, Mr. Rogers adopts the old-school approach that the buck stops at the boss’s desk. Mr. Rogers created “from scratch” a premier and innovative effective management training program known as “The Hidden Secrets to Effective Management,” which grooms and teaches management to improve business performance that will translate into higher organizational productivity and optimized profitability. Mr. Rogers has taken this innovative program and modified it for the ELMC.
